Any advice to give to new PSL students?

— Take advantage of the City of Light and all the artistic and cultural excitement it offers! Wander along the Seine, go to concerts, see exhibitions - you can choose whatever you like.

— Get involved in projects you really care about. More than anything, PSL offers endless opportunities thanks to its wide range of schools and its students from different backgrounds. There are athletic clubs, the Orchestra and Choir, events organized by the PSL Student Union and much more.

— Your PSL experience starts now, so be alive to the possibilities!

MACIEJ JASZCZYNSKI, EPHE – PSL
What I’ll remember most from this year was the language partner events that I got to organize each month at lively venues all over Paris. The idea was to give everyone a fun-filled opportunity to improve their skills in any language (Norwegian, English, German, French, Japanese, Russian, etc.) by meeting PSL students from all over the world. We matched nearly 150 students in the course of a year!

Volunteering, sports, music, cultural projects... Be alive to the possibilities at PSL!

Tip

Better keep away

Some agencies, so-called “list sellers”, give you access to their offers for a given period (usually 4 months) if you pay expensive fees (between €150 and €450). However, the available offers are limited both in number and in quality, and very often, they are outdated. Don’t waste your money on such offers.
STEPS TO RENT ACCOMMODATION

In France, students of all nationalities benefit from specific state subsidies to find accommodation. France is the only country in Europe to offer such a system.

Housing allowances
Rent is a significant item in your budget. Don’t forget to apply for housing allowance.

Monthly rent allowance: Aide personnalisée au logement (APL) or Allocation de logement à caractère social (ALS). Both are paid by the Caisse d’allocation familiale (CAF).

— ALS is Allocation de logement à caractère social. It can be paid for a room in a residence, but also for a studio, an apartment or a house in the city. This is the most significant support provided to students.

— The APL is Aide personnalisée au logement. It is paid directly by CAF to the housing under contract. Most of the housing units are under contract, particularly those managed by the HLM organizations and the CROUS residences.

To estimate your budget, you can use the simulator to calculate the housing allowance to which you may be entitled on the CAF website (caf.fr). To take the necessary steps, follow the guide to student housing allowances available on the CAF website. Do not delay in sending your application, CAF allowances are no longer retroactive!

Cité internationale universitaire de Paris (CIUP)

USEFUL TERMS

m² (square meter)
Unit to calculate the living space. The loi Carrez is the name of the law detailing how to calculate living space in France.

Charges (additional charges)
Rental prices are indicated either excluding charges (HC or HT) and/or with charges included (CC or TCC). Monthly rental charges usually include building maintenance and rental taxes. Generally, these charges include cold water (ask for confirmation) and sometimes heating, this is called “collective heating”.

L’état des lieux (inventory of fixtures)
These two documents are written on your first arrival at the accommodation (incoming inventory) and when you hand it over (outgoing inventory), in the presence of both the tenant and the landlord. The document describes precisely the general state of the apartment (cleanliness, electrical network, heating, wall paintings, floors, sanitary facilities, etc.). Be careful, the comparison of these two documents will be used as a reference to determine possible damage and determine responsibilities. The owner will decide on this basis to return all or part of the security deposit when you leave.

Le délai de préavis (notice period)
Before leaving your home, it is essential to notify the landlord within the time limit set by law, called “notice period”. This period is set at 1 month for rentals in Paris and its suburbs. The letter indicating your departure from the accommodation must be sent by registered mail with acknowledgement of receipt (courrier recommandé avec accusé de réception). The landlord will be entitled to claim the months of rent you owe them.

Le garant (guarantee)
Also called “la caution”: a person who stands surety for the tenant’s debt. In case the tenant doesn’t pay the rent and additional charges, the guarantee is required to pay them (Article 2288 du Code civil).

Le bail (lease agreement)
The lease agreement describes the rights and duties of the landlord and the tenant. Part of the information is required by law. The rules depend on the type of accommodation – either furnished or empty.
Visale Guarantee
Visale offers rent guarantee for students under 30 years old (until they are 31) when they loan an accommodation in Île-de-France, either private or public, if the rent is below €1500.

→ Online application on visale.fr

Services to help you manage accommodation are available on the website: messervices.etudiant.gouv.fr

— Guarantee deposit
The amount of the security deposit is limited to one month’s rent (excluding charges) if it is an empty accommodation (two months in furnished housing). This deposit of money is repaid to you within a maximum of 2 months after outgoing inventory of fixtures. The owner is allowed to withdraw any amount necessary to restore the property in the event of damage and if they can have it certified.

→ Further information: service-public.fr/particuliers/vosdroits/F31269

— House and civil liability insurance policy
When you sign the rental contract, it is mandatory to take out a “multi-risk home” insurance policy that covers the risks of fire, water damage, theft, etc. and send certificate to the owner each year. Civil liability insurance policies allow you to be repaid if you accidentally cause harm to a third party. It is mandatory in France. It is often included in home insurance policy (be careful not to pay it twice). Banks and student health insurance contracts offer this type of scheme.

— Heating and power contracts
When you arrive in a privately-owned accommodation, you have to subscribe a contract for power. There are several suppliers, you should compare them

(try on fournisseur-energie.com/aides-fiches-techniques/comparateur-electricite/abonnement/)

— La taxe d’habitation (residence tax)
Residence tax has to be paid every year to contribute to public community services. Don’t forget to ask if your accommodation is eligible and how much you have to pay.

— Legal aid
The Agence Départementale d’Information sur le Logement de Paris is a charitable organization whose purpose is to offer legal advice on any question about accommodation. Free service is available on appointment in every city hall.

→ See opening hours and make an appointment: adil75.org

→ Further information on financial support for housing: psl.eu/en > Life@PSL > Campus life in Paris > housing

GarantMe
Do you need guarantee? You can subscribe a contract with Garantme. Fill in the online package and get a certificate you can give to your landlord. The pricing is calculated on the rent and the tenants. You can try directly on their website! garantme.fr

Healthcare

STUDENT HEALTH INSURANCE

In France, the State provides legal basic health insurance cover (“Sécurité sociale” or “Sécu”) and you can also subscribe to an optional health insurance policy (“mutuelle”).

Basic health insurance is mandatory for everyone and it entitles to be either partially or fully repaid of health expenses.

If you enter higher education at the beginning of the 2019 academic year,
If you enroll for the first time in a higher education institution, and you are French, you must pay the CVEC (see p. 51), you will then automatically be assigned a compulsory health insurance scheme to be repaid of your health expenses, usually the policy from your parents or legal guardians, regardless of the status (general, agricultural or other). You have no steps to take for this subscription, but take advantage of it to create an account on ameli.fr (general status), MSA (agricultural status) or any other web platform on a special status, in order to be repaid of any future health expense.

If you were already a student in 2018–2019
If you pursue your studies in 2019/2020 and subscribed a student optional insurance policy (such as a management center), you will automatically be assigned to a classical policy.
The previous student social insurance policy will end on August 31, 2019.

On this date, all students who subscribed a student mutual insurance will automatically be assigned to the Coisse Primaire d’Assurance Maladie of their place of residence. The student health insurance companies, alongside the Sécurité Sociale, will keep doing preventive health actions and will still offer optional health insurance specifically designed for students.

International students (from outside the EEA and Quebec) and residents of overseas collectivities (New Caledonia, French Polynesia or Wallis and Futuna)

To begin or pursue your studies, you have to subscribe health insurance before your arrival in France, on the website: etudiant-etranger.ameli.fr

Please attach the supporting documents:

— ID papers (national ID card, passport...).
— A document certifying you enrolled in a higher education institution for the academic year.
— A bank statement (RIB) that will allow you to receive repayments.
— A civil status document required to create your registration ID number.
— A valid residence permit (only for international students).

Costs

— Secteur 1: The doctor doesn’t overcharge (€25 for an appointment with a GP). The National Health Insurance repays on the basis of Secteur 1 costs.
— Secteur 2: The doctor slightly overcharges and the patient has to pay the extra cost.
— Non conventionné: the doctor chooses the cost of the appointments.

Médecin traitant (referring doctor)

To be repaid at best rate, you have to choose a referring doctor, called médecin traitant, who is in charge of coordinating the treatments.

Tiers payant (third-party payer)

With tiers payant, you don’t have to pay at once the doctor. Tiers payant can be either complete or partial.

Les pharmacies (drugstores)

Drugs can only be bought in drugstores. Many drugs are delivered only on a prescription written by a doctor. Some common medicines, such as aspirin, are available over the counter. However, only prescription drugs are repaid. Some drugstores are open on Sundays. During nights and national holidays, you can ask a duty drugstore, which is on a list displayed on the door of all drugstores.

Ordonnance (prescription)

The paper on which a doctor writes the treatment. The prescription may include a health exam, a medical treatment, a list of drugs, a device.

Special cases

— Students from the EEA/Switzerland

Before you arrive in France, ask for a European Health Insurance Card (EHIC) from your health insurance policy, valid for the current academic year. It certifies that you benefit from health insurance in your country and you are exempted from subscribing the French Social Security scheme on condition that you provide the paper when you enroll. You do not need to register on the website: etudiant-etranger.ameli.fr.

If you do not have a European Health Insurance Card, ask for the S1 Form from health insurance policy in your home country. Afterwards, you have to register on: etudiant-etranger.ameli.fr.

— Students from Quebec

• Before you leave, take the SE 401-Q-102 bis form (or SE 401-Q-106 if you are participating in an exchange program between universities) valid during the current academic year, which certifies your subscription to Quebec health insurance policy. When you register on the website etudiant-etranger.ameli.fr, you have to provide one of these forms. You do not have to provide a residence permit.
• If you are not eligible for the student social security policy, you can benefit from the Universal Health Insurance (PUMA). Subscription to PUMA is made with the health insurance policy of your home country.

Optional Health Insurance Policy (Mutuelle)

The optional health insurance complements the Social Security repayments for the remaining 30%. In particular, it entitles to third-party payer as well as the repayment of expenses related to hospitalization. It is strongly recommended to subscribe to one. Companies such as the LMDE and or SMEREP offer optional insurance contracts ranging from about €78 to €165 for one year. You can subscribe while insurance during the administrative enrollment or directly with the LMDE (lmde.fr) and the SMEREP (smerep.fr).

Students benefiting from such contracts pursue their studies and carry out the activities provided for in the contract at an appropriate pace. This pace is adjusted according to the specific requirements of the training followed in order to allow the simultaneous pursuit of studies and the professional integration of students. Who should I reach out to at PSL?
— If you come to PSL for a dual degree in engineering or a university exchange → contact the office of international relations in your host school.
— If you come to PSL for a degree-awarding program (BA’s or Master’s), → the director and the administrative officer of your study program will be able to inform you on the enrollment process, the services to which you have access, the welcome events and will answer your questions on your courses.

Which scholarship can I benefit from?
You can benefit from many scholarships to study in France:
— Scholarships from your government.
— Scholarships from the French government.
— Scholarships from the European Union; from international organizations.
— Scholarships from your host school.

Check with your home school, your government, the French embassy, the Campus France office in your country and your host school.

→ Find a scholarship on Campus Bourses, a directory of programs of scholarships: bourses.campusfrance.org

Do I need a visa to study in France?
It depends on your nationality and the duration of your studies. If you come from one of the member states of the European Union (EU) or the European Economic Area (EEA), you do not need a visa to study in France. If you come from a country outside of the EU or EEA and you would like to come and study in France for more than 3 months, you need to request a student visa. Contact Campus France and the French consulate in your home country to make a request for a student visa as soon as possible at least three months before your departure.

→ The online EEF (Études en France) pre-consular procedure is mandatory in certain countries: campusfrance.org.fr/candidature-procedure-etudes-en-france

Which visa should I request?
— For a short stay (0 to 3 months)
  - The Schengen Visa for a short stay: this visa allows you to stay up to 90 days (interrupted or cumulated out of 180 days) in a country within the Schengen area. Depending on your nationality, you may not need it.
  - The Visa étudiant-concours: this visa allows you to come for an interview or take an entrance exam at a public or private institution of higher education. If you pass, you may obtain, without coming back to your country, a renewable residence permit for one year at the préfecture.

— For a long stay (over 3 months)
  - The long-term visa for studies with the residence permit (VLS-TS) is valid for one year and renewable. This visa allows you to work 20 hours a week, travel within the Schengen area, get housing benefits from the CAF and the free student local deposit (VISALE). This visa is for students doing their BA’s, Master’s and for PhD students without a doctoral contract.
  - The long-term visa (VLS) Passeport Talent Chercheur: renewable under the form of a residence permit valid for several years, this visa is for PhD students, researchers and academics, and their families. To obtain it, you need to get a hosting agreement approved by your host school and by the French consular authorities in your home country.

Events
Besides providing you with personal help, the PSL Welcome Desk organizes several events throughout the academic year:
— Student meetings: get to know other PSL students thanks to many international parties (bowling, karaoke, “Games and pizza night” etc.) offered to you.
— Cultural discoveries and original tours of Paris: the panoramic view of Paris from the Tour Montparnasse, a street-art tour in the South of Paris, the European Museum Night etc.
— PSL French Afternoon: the PSL Welcome Desk organizes a session dedicated to French language every Tuesday afternoon. The perfect opportunity to speak French over a cup of coffee or have a written text proof-read by one of the French-speaking tutors.
— Language Exchange Program: the best way to improve your language skills is to practice with native speakers! To help you master the langue de Molière (or the Queen’s English) an international student meeting with snacks is organized every month.

Good to know

Visa
There is an official site of visas to France, france-visas.gouv.fr, where you can find all the necessary information.

Find accommodation
You need to provide the French consulate with a housing certificate for your visa to be granted. Therefore, you need to look for accommodation as soon as you receive your certificate of admission.
→ See p. 27 “housing”

La CVEC
You must pay your CVEC fee before your arrival to France.
→ See p. 53 “practical information”
Find a Buddy

If you want to be paired with a PSL student before your arrival in Paris, ask your host school if they offer a Buddy Program. The missions of a buddy are:

- To welcome you personally in Paris.
- To have you visit the PSL campus and more specifically your host institution.
- Make you discover the dos and don'ts of the capital city.

If your institution does not offer this service, sign up to the Buddy Program of the PSL Welcome Desk: Partner@PSL.

Contact: PARTNER@psl.eu

In my suitcase

- My administrative papers: passport, visa, certificate of admission to PSL, birth certificate (translated), certificate of housing, CVEC, photocopy of previous diplomas and grades with their certified translation, health record, certificate of social insurance from my home country (notes: if you are a European student, bring your European Health Insurance Card or the S1 form. If you are a Quebecker student, bring the SE401Q102bis or the SE401Q106 form), the last three bank records, certificate of success on my French/English test, driving license (optional), etc.

Scan these documents and save them on a USB flash drive or a hard drive in case you lose them. Moreover, make a few photocopies. If you had to request a visa to come to France, please keep in mind that all the documents of your application package can be reviewed at the airport.

- A credit/debit card which works in France.

- Euros in cash.

- My computer and my charged mobile phone.

  Do not forget to save the number of the PSL Welcome Desk in your contacts: +33 7 50 15 92 93 and the one of your Buddy if you have signed up for a Buddy program.

- My medicines/antihistamines (if applicable).

- A warm sweater and an umbrella. In September, the weather in Paris can be unpredictable!

- An adapter, in case my devices are not suited to E/F type sockets. The voltage and the frequency in France are 230V, 50Hz.

Besides this list of useful items, you can bring belongings that remind you of your home country, your family and your friends to help make you feel comfortable. However, make sure not to weigh down your suitcase too much!

Good to know

In coordination with PSL's institutions, the PSL Welcome Desk team organizes “Welcome Days” with workshops (opening a bank account, having your visa validated and renewed, finding accommodation, learning about healthcare, security) and cultural and social events to meet other PSL students and discover your new campus.

For more information on the “Welcome Days”, contact the PSL Welcome Desk.
I get my visa validated
If you have a student visa VLS-TS or VLS-TS Passeport Talent Chercheur for a period of below 12 months, you must validate your visa at the Office français pour l’immigration et l’intégration within three months after your arrival in France. This procedure is mandatory!

In order to validate your visa, go to the platform https://administration-etranger-en-france.interieur.gouv.fr/particuliers/#/ and fill it with all the necessary information (your visa number, email, date of arrival, address in France).

Then you have to pay the tax in the form of a fiscal electronic stamp (60 euros for a student visa and 250 euros for a Passeport Talent Chercheur visa). You can also buy a fiscal stamp at a newsdealer.

You will receive a certificate of validation in PDF format (attestation OFII) which you will fold and put in your passport.

I open a bank account
If you stay in Paris for more than three months for your studies, we advise you to open a bank account in France. This will make your life easier. Your bank will provide a check-book and a RIB (account number) which are necessary for some of your paperwork: to pay rent, sign a contract for a phone number or get a refund on your medical expenses, it is better to provide a French account number. When you need to make a deposit for an apartment, a trip or a bike rent, you can be asked for a check.

To open a bank account, a bank usually asks for:
— A photocopy of your ID card.
— A housing certificate from the last 3 months (certificate of accommodation from a university residence, electricity or gas invoice, certificate of accommodation).
— Your OFII certificate.
— Your enrollment certificate (a document which proves that you are enrolled in PSL and that you have paid the tuition fees).

If I meet the eligibility criteria, I register for the French Social Security by signing up on the etudiant-etranger.ameli.fr website.

I check if I am entitled to accommodation benefits and make a request at the CAF (Caisse d’allocations familiales)
First, make a simulation online in order to check whether you are eligible. If this is the case, create an account at caf.fr to send your application for benefits.

A word of advice
— Check if your bank in your home country has a partnership with a bank in France. Opening a bank account in France could be easier in that case.
— Opening a bank account and obtaining your bank card can take some time: start the process as soon as you arrive in France.
— The best-known French banks are: BNP Paribas, Société Générale, Banque Postale, LCL, Caisse d’Épargne.

You need to anticipate the following expenses during the first month:
— Enrollment costs: check with your host school for the exact amount and the conditions of payment.
— The CVEC (91 euros).
— The deposit for your accommodation (often equivalent to a 1-month rent) and possibly additional costs if you rent through an agency.
— Housing insurance and civic liability insurance.
— Health insurance to cover the period from your arrival in France to your enrollment at your host institution (because you are not insured if you are not enrolled).
— Additional health insurance (optional).
— For non-European students: costs of the visa and the fiscal stamp for the validation of your visa.
— Your transportation card: ImagineR (or Navigo if you are over 26 years old).

WORK DURING YOUR STUDIES

The labor laws in France
You are authorized to work during your studies in France, as long as your enrollment at your school entitles to social security for students and a student long-term visa (VLS-TS), or a student residence permit if you do not come from the European Union.
You will be allowed to work up to 964 hours per year, which is 60% of the normal work duration in France. However, the duration of your work is proportional to the duration of your studies (for example 482 hours maximum for a course of 6 months). The labor law often changes and there are many exceptions.
You will have the opportunity to work during your studies, but it will not allow you to cover all your expenses. A student job is only extra income.
